Berger Singerman, Florida's Business Law Firm, is pleased to announce that its client, Point Blank Enterprises, Inc. ("Point Blank"), a worldwide leader in the production of soft and hard body armor and aviation protective solutions, acquired Safe, Inc.("Safe") (safeinc.us), headquartered in Tempe, AZ, a company that focuses on improving crashworthiness and seating design and protection of pilots and crew of U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) and NASA aerospace platforms. Point Blank is currently one of the premier sources of rotary-wing ballistic armor systems in the world, with over 50 years of experience providing highly engineered and innovative protection solutions to the DoD.

The Berger Singerman corporate team, led by Scott "SJ" Jablonski, acted as legal counsel to Point Blank for the M&A transaction.

"We are pleased to see Point Blank close this deal, and honored to be its trusted M&A counsel for the transaction," said Jablonski, who is also the firm's Transactional Innovation Partner and added that "it's always a pleasure to work with clients like Point Blank who are open to engaging us with our use of innovative legal technology to enhance the deal experience and create efficiencies for all parties."

The advanced engineering team at Safe will enhance the capabilities of Point Blank and add resources to Point Blank's growing dynamic engineering team that has been providing the most advanced armor systems in the world. Mike Archibald, Division President of Point Blank, said, "We will leverage Safe's advanced Aerospace Engineering capabilities to access the non-ballistic pilot and crew safety and protection segment. Safe's products and systems are proven to improve pilot and crew crash survivability, fatigue, and overall safety on U.S. DoD and NASA platforms."
