BERGER SINGERMAN'S BANKRUPTCY LITIGATION PRACTICE RECOGNIZED AS 2021 "LITIGATION DEPARTMENTS OF THE YEAR" BY DAILY BUSINESS REVIEW

March 29, 2021

Berger Singerman, Florida's business law firm, is proud to announce that its Bankruptcy Litigation Practice has been recognized as a "Litigation Department of the Year", and the only firm recognized in the Bankruptcy category by the Daily Business Review. In its 17th year, Daily Business Review's "Litigation Departments of the Year" award recognizes attorneys and departments for professional excellence in their legal work across Florida. The Daily Business Review's annual legal awards event will be held in-person in May 2021.

Berger Singerman continues to uphold an impressive regional and national reputation in bankruptcy litigation. Its practitioners draw from the depth and expertise of the firm's Business Reorganization Team members in prosecuting and defending complex contested matters and adversary proceedings in bankruptcy cases and in insolvency related litigation matters in other courts.

"We are immensely proud of our Business Reorganization Team. Our Reorg Team has played meaningful roles in many of the largest reorganization cases and out of court restructurings in Florida and beyond for over two decades. We are gratified by this recognition and honored to be in the company of the other Litigation Department of the Year honorees," said Paul Steven Singerman, co-chair of Berger Singerman.

Berger Singerman's bankruptcy litigators have a strong record of delivering creative and effective advice and results to the firm clients in state, federal and administrative courts and in arbitration matters, and are known for efficiently resolving disputes in large and complicated matters and for skillfully trying matters that are not resolved prior to trial.
