BERGER SINGERMAN
FLORIDA'S BUSINESS LAW FIRM

GOVERNMENT AND REGULATORY

Berger Singerman's Government and Regulatory Team represents public sector and private clients in their interactions with federal, state, regional and local governmental and other regulatory authorities. Our Government and Regulatory Team's experience encompasses a wide variety of public interest, governmental and regulatory matters, including:

- Land Development, Growth Management, Infill, New Urbanism and "Green Practices"
- Environmental Regulation and Remediation
- Transportation and Infrastructure
- Healthcare
- Business and Professional Licensing and other Regulations
- Public Corruption, Special Counsel Investigations and Ethics Compliance
- Governmental Procurement
- Bid Disputes
- Election and Campaign Finance Regulation
- White Collar Criminal Defense
- Business Immigration

Several of the Team's attorneys bring extensive experience from their previous service as regulatory board members and counsel to regulators, and from careers as business executives in regulated organizations. With the benefit of these backgrounds and their relationships with Florida and federal regulatory personnel, our Government and Regulatory Team attorneys enjoy leading roles on matters of important public interest, including Sustainable Development, Everglades Restoration, Airport and Port Expansion, Keys Highway widening, State Legislative investigations, and contribute to crafting and executing our clients' regulatory strategies.

The Government and Regulatory Team works closely with the Firm's other teams to bring regulatory expertise and professional relationships to assist clients in achieving their objectives in transactional, restructuring and dispute resolution matters. Through their wealth of experience and relationships, our Government and Regulatory Team delivers effective and practical solutions to regulatory matters.
