AJ Fernandez is an associate based in Berger Singerman's Miami office, and a member of the Business, Finance, and Tax team. AJ went to law school at the University of Florida on a full-tuition merit scholarship. AJ's corporate law training includes spending his first summer of law school with the Miami Dolphins in-house corporate counsel, a semester-in-practice with Formula 1 Miami Grand Prix, and his corporate and M&A practice at Berger Singerman.

AJ is also passionate about legal teaching and increasing access to legal education. AJ was a teaching assistant for Legal Writing in law school, earned his Master of Education degree at Harvard University, and aims to teach corporate law while remaining a full-time practitioner.

AJ is committed to helping Miami's vulnerable populations-including veterans, families, and unaccompanied youth experiencing homelessness-gain access to a brighter future through housing, mental health services, substance abuse programs, education, and workforce and skill development. AJ sits on the board of directors at Camillus House, the largest organization serving people experiencing homelessness in South Florida.
